Revisit the lost art of writing with these fun prompts, worksheets, exercises—and more!—and experience the many benefits of writing by hand, including increased focus and memory, relaxation, and creative expression. Writing by hand may seem passé in the digital age, but it shouldn't be dismissed as simply an activity for grade schoolers—it offers countless benefits that have been studied by researchers, brain neurologists, therapists, educators, and others who are invested in helping handwriting thrive in an age of advancing technology. Handwriting may be slower than typing—but this gives your brain more time to process information, and stimulates neurological connections that aid in memory, focus, and composition. The process of handwriting can also have a soothing, calming effect and can even serve as a great form of meditation. And of course, it's a great way of expressing your individuality and personal style. The Lost Art of Handwriting explores the history of writing longhand, and reintroduces proper stroke sequences, letter forms, and techniques for evaluating and improving your handwriting. pages will get you to practice your handwriting on a daily basis until you perfect it. Benefits to writing by hand One study found that students who take notes longhand are able to better retain the information, compared to those who type out notes using a laptop. When typing out notes, students tended to simply take verbatim notes. However, when writing out notes by hand, you engage your brain, which has a positive impact on your ability to remember the material. Not only does this improve your memory, but it also gives you a better grasp on the subject, as you are not merely mindlessly processing the information. Time Flexible Timings, You can do it in your free time of the day. Every day you need 30 to 45 mins, depending on your skills and speed.
